

PRESIDENT MEETS WITH SECURITY COUNCIL

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHY T.

WE GROW 'EM BIGGER DEPT. You've heard the old saying, "The bigger they come, the harder they fall." And it also might be the harder they fall, the bigger the splash if you're talking about eggs.

Some few days back we got a big egg from out near Omaha in Gallatin county but a Rudement hen outdid the one from Omaha. It apparently read in this column about the Lee Davis egg that was eight and a half inches around the big way and seven inches around the other.

So the Rudement hen got busy, made an all-day project out of it, and came up with an egg that is nine inches around the long way and seven inches and a half around the other way.

It was brought to the office by the Rev. John Yuhas, pastor of The Sloan Street General Baptist church, and Mrs. Yuhas. They got it from Dewey Baldwin of Rudement. One of his Leghorn hens laid it.

IT HAPPENED NEAR HERE: Out in the country near Harrisburg a little boy went into the house of a neighbor and asked the housewife for a drink of water, which he readily got.

When finished the lad said to the woman:

"If my little sister comes over and asks for a drink I wouldn't give her one. But if you don't I wouldn't drink after her. She's got worms — but not the fuzzy kind."

HUMOR DEPT.: Mother was helping Sonny with his homework and the subject was arithmetic.

"How much is seven and four?" she asked the boy.

"Twelve," said the son.

"Not bad for a little shaver," said his dad, who was listening.

"He only missed it by two."

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN HERE: Wife—I can't sleep.

Husband—What did you have to eat before you came to bed?

Wife—A glass of milk.

Husband—That explains it. The milk changed to cheese, cheese to fat, fat to sugar and sugar to alcohol. You've got a hangover.

Issue Permits For 17 Oil Drilling Tests

A new permit for drilling in the area north of Harrisburg and 16 permits for drilling in Eldorado township were issued at Springfield between April 12 and 18.

On April 12 Richard W. Portis of Evansville, who has drilled the LaSater wells northeast of Eldorado, received a permit to drill the George Barnes No. 1, which is in Raleigh township north of Harrisburg. The test will be in the southwest corner of Section 29, 8S-6E.

The Eldorado permits:

Breuer-Robinson Oil Co., Chicago, for the Plumlee Community No. 2, SEc NW SW, 15-8S-7E;

Breuer-Robinson for the Plumlee Community No. 3, SWc NW SW, 15-8S-7E;

To Dedicate New Land Street Church Of God Sunday; Open House Saturday

The dedication service of the new Land Street Church of God, which has recently been completed, will be held Sunday afternoon following a homecoming potluck dinner at the church.

The program is as follows: Opening piano music by Cecil Abney; congregational hymn "In the Sweet Forever"; welcoming address by pastor; songs by the Boys of Little Egypt quartette; talk by Rev. Glen Daugherty, president of the Ministerial Alliance; recognition of former pastors; songs by quartette; address by Mayor Ralph Horning, Mayor-Elect Claude Gibbons and County Judge Trafton Dennis; dedication service under the direction of Rev. F. W. Goff, state overseer, and message by Rev. Houston R. Moorehead, assistant general overseer of the Church of God.

Open house will be held at the church on Saturday, April 23, from 1 to 6 p. m., at which time coffee and doughnuts will be served. Organ music will be played throughout the afternoon. Guests will be ushered throughout the church and parsonage.

Modernistic Building

The church, which is modernistic in every respect, is constructed of a pastel green glazed tile with windows of green cathedral glass. The auditorium is floored with asphalt tile of dark brown and by a carpet of tan with dashes of green will cover the altar and rostrum. A raised platform on the rostrum where the choir will be seated will roll forward displaying the baptistry. A beautifully carved pulpit was given to the church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Curtiss by their children and grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss were members. Behind the pulpit has been placed a large picture of Christ.

The north part of the building consists of the pastor's study; a lounge; the primary department, which is furnished with small metal chairs and tables, and taught by Mrs. Virgil Poole; young people's department, teacher, Cecil Abney; young men's class, teacher, Joe Foster; and junior boys, taught by Raphael Johnson. Sunday school superintendent is Thurman Meier, and other classes are the women's class taught by Mrs. Bruce Foster; ladies' Bible class, teacher, Mrs. Earl Gunter; junior girls, Mrs. Raphael Johnson; and men's Bible class, Virgil Poole.

Parsonage Adjoins Church

Also on the north side is the dining room equipped with long tables, folding chairs, and kitchen with a large serving window. The dishes for the kitchen were donated by the customers of the Kroger store who placed their coupons after buying groceries in a box on the counter marked for the Church of God.

Adjoined to the church on the south side is the parsonage which is designed with two bedrooms, kitchen, long living room, linen and clothes closets and bath. The parsonage has been furnished with all new furniture.

The pastor, Rev. J. Andrew Rafferty, a former contractor and engineer, came to Harrisburg the first of September of last year purposely to build a new church, and on the week of September 13 work had been begun on the new building. He is a native of Lemmon, South Dakota, a graduate of Northwest Bible and Music Academy in Minot, North Dakota, and was president of the International Bible college in Estevan, Canada, for a number of years.

The church is valued at $65,000 and will seat 300 people. It is air conditioned throughout. The building of the church has been under the supervision of Rev. Rafferty, and the labor has all been donated.

The first Church of God in Harrisburg was organized in 1918 by the Rev. Will Brawford and services were held in a building on South McKinley street. In 1936 the church was moved to the present location.

Former pastors include Rev. Brawford, John O. Yates, W. J. Milligan, Arthur Bixler, Rev. McAnnally, Ross Glover, Hansel Newton, Houston Moorehead, Forrest Ashe, Jack Utley, Barbara King, Alonzo Hargraves, Charles Bergler, Rev. Spurlock, Melvin Smith, Louis Waters, Curtis Austin, C. W. Kerce, Jess Milligan and Kenneth Harrawood.

'Bromo' Johns Off Critical List

Bronzed "Bromo" Johns was taken off the critical list yesterday at Veterans Administration hospital in St. Louis, his relatives have reported. Johns is responding to treatment and may have visitors. He also would appreciate cards and letters from friends. The address is Ward 6B, Room 610, Veterans Administration hospital, 915 North Grand avenue, St. Louis, Mo. He was critically injured in a car crash Sunday.

Revoke Dancing License at Grove Inn

The dancing license at the Grove Inn was revoked yesterday. Sheriff William T. Barrett reported. He said that the license was revoked by the county control commission after the place had been watched by county board members and the sheriff's office. He and his deputies picked up the license yesterday afternoon.

Barrett said that they had noticed a number of "drunks" and minors around the place.

Newly-Elected Commissioners Select Dep'ts

Retiring Council Canvasses Vote Of Tuesday Election

The newly-elected commissioners of city of Harrisburg met yesterday afternoon at the Darnell grocery store and decided upon the departments they will head.

The lineup, it was announced, will be as follows:

Don Williams, commissioner of finance;

Charles R. Hine, commissioner of public safety;

Sneed Jordan, commissioner of streets and alleys;

Morris Darnell, commissioner of public property.

There were no announcements as to their appointments.

Formal designation of departments will come at the first meeting of the new council May 3, when it will organize.

Meanwhile, the retiring city council met yesterday and canvassed the vote of the Tuesday election.

The official vote was the same as the unofficial figures published yesterday by The Daily Register except in two instances.

The canvass showed that Charlie Walker got 262 votes for commissioner in Precinct 3 instead of 162, which made his total 1313 and put him in sixth place in the standings instead of in seventh.

The canvass showed also that Charlie McKenzie got 1,878 votes and John Small got 1,537 in the race for police magistrate, both bigger figures than carried yesterday.

The official canvass:

Mayor: Claude Gibbons 2,785, Hudson Mudge 584.

Commissioner: Morris Darnell 1,531, Harry Denny 1,404, Ernest Duncan 1,268, Charles R. Hine 1,937, Sneed Jordan 1,953, Charles D. Taylor 1,039, Charlie Walker 1,313, Don Williams 1,767.

Police Magistrate: Charles McKenzie 1,878, John Small 1,537.

W. F. Taylor of New Burnside Dies

William Franklin Taylor, 89, former resident of Zion community of Pope county who more recently lived in New Burnside, died yesterday at 11:45 p. m. following a long illness.

He leaves his wife, Lanie, and seven children: Marshall Taylor, Texarkana, Tex., Clyde of Alton, Herbert of Marion, Fred and Randall, both of New Burnside, Mrs. Ray (Laura) Bethel, and Mrs. George (Ethel) Warren, both of the Ozark community.

Mr. Taylor was a retired farmer.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m., the place undecided, and burial will be in the Zion cemetery.

The body lies in state at the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort.

Mr. Taylor's funeral will be conducted by the Rev. George Smith at Zion church at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Zion cemetery.

1.46 Inch Rainfall

Harrisburg got nearly an inch and a half of rain last night. Harrison Kibler reported the fall here measured 1.46 inch.

A seven-year-old boy admitted to city police and County Judge Trafton Dennis yesterday that he broke into a couple of houses Saturday and neglect charges were filed against his mother.

The boy first broke into the Dave Evans home on East Poplar street and took some goods which he hid outside in the Evans yard. Then he went into the J. W. Alvey home nearby and stole some comic books.

Police, notified of the incidents, caught him when he returned to the Evans home with some other boys to pick up what he had hidden.

Chief of Police Loren Travelstead said the boy had caused the police trouble on several occasions during the past two years. When he was six, Travelstead said, the boy was caught setting a building on fire. He also entered the basement of another home recently.

"You can't sentence a seven-year-old boy," Travelstead said, "but if their parents are letting them run around and not looking after them, you certainly can file charges against them. That's what we'll continue to do, when these little fellows keep getting into trouble and we learn that their parents aren't doing a thing to try to keep them straight."

Travelstead signed an information in county court charging the mother with contributing to the dependency and neglect of her children.

Four other boys, all older, who went with the seven-year-old to pick up the goods in the Evans yard were questioned but were released.

"We were satisfied they didn't enter the houses," Travelstead declared.

Espionage by 'Undercover Men' Subject Of Dinner Club Talk Thursday, April 28

"There is little doubt that this country has more information on Russian and its satellite countries than most citizens suppose," says Arch F. Coleman, a former secret service man with experience in the Far East, who will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Southern Illinois Dinner club, the evening of Thursday, April 28, at the Kurto Country club.

"Of course our secret service and undercover men are at work," says Coleman. Not only have they determined the man and machine strength of Russia, but they know pretty well what its available present natural resources are, how its transportation system works, what its chances are of protecting its vital industries, its electric power plants, how much food it can supply, a moving army, and all other factors that are pertinent.

Coleman, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, who also spent two years at West Point, has seen service with the Office of Strategic Services in Mexico and in the Near East and Far East. He was one of the original cloak and dagger representatives of what became the OSS, and later was an instructor to undercover men, and an organizer of espionage groups in Turkey.

An early experience with the United Fruit Company in Central America, and with an oil company, subsidiary of the New Jersey Standard, as well as sales representative for heavy machinery in Mexico, led to his employment with the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and later with the secret service.

This will be the last of the spring series of meetings by the Dinner club. The fall series will resume in September.

Advance reservations for the dinner meeting, which will begin at 6:30 p. m., should be made with Rees Turner, secretary of the Southern Illinois Dinner club.

Plans for a youth center which is being sponsored by Delta Theta Tau sorority are now under way as a building for the organization has been secured. The center will be on the second floor of the Eagles building which has been donated free-of-charge. This site seems very desirable since there would be a private entrance and cloakroom facilities within the ballroom.

Plans for the organization are as follows:

(1) To form a board consisting of one member from each interested organization in town willing to support, help plan activities and provide chaperones for the youth center. This adult board will work with the teen-age board in managing activities and formulating rules and regulations.

(2) The age limit will be 14 through 18 years. Membership cards will be issued and small dues of possibly ten cents per month will be charged.

(3) To open only one night a week at the beginning and perhaps two nights later on, if some special activity is planned. Plans for a paid supervisor are pending.

Teen towns have failed in Harrisburg in the past because of the improper organization, support and supervision. It is for that reason the sorority feels it should be done on a large scale basis with good organization and made the responsibility of all civic-minded groups in Harrisburg.

Many organizations have been contacted and have appointed members to serve on the board. If by chance the sorority neglects to contact an organization, that group, if interested is asked to notify Mrs. Pat Sullivan.

The first board meeting will be called sometime during the first week in May.

Jones to Introduce Bill to Protect Coal from A-Power

State Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh today said that he plans to introduce a measure to establish a non-salaried commission on atomic energy to look into the problem of protecting Illinois coal from the impact of the use of atomic power.

He said he also plans to ask the legislature to see what can be done through legislation to protect the people of the state from possible H-bomb attack, declaring that at present there is no legislation along this line.

Along the same line, he said, he seeks legislation to encourage and assist in the relocation of industrial areas of the state into smaller communities because of possible attack.

Senator Jones has been devoting considerable time in his capacity as a legislator to his proposal to move essential industry out of the big city areas.

Jones this week introduced a bill of interest to township officials. It would permit the use of motor fuel tax funds which are allocated to townships to be used for maintenance and repair of township roads and bridges other than new construction, not to exceed 25 percent of the total allocation to the township and only where the township has exhausted its local tax funds. Now these allocations must be used entirely on new construction or on reconstruction and maintenance and repair of motor fuel tax roads only.

He also introduced a bill which would require, beginning with 1956 models, that all new cars sold in Illinois must have attachments to which buyers can install safety belts if they so desire.

Secure Youth Center Location

Plans for a youth center which is being sponsored by Delta Theta Tau sorority are now under way as a building for the organization has been secured. The center will be on the second floor of the Eagles building which has been donated free-of-charge. This site seems very desirable since there would be a private entrance and cloakroom facilities within the ballroom.

Speculate U. S. Will Press New Peace Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower met with the National Security Council today. Speculation rose that the United States may shortly press Nationalist China to consider new peace moves in the Formosa Straits.

Under study for some time is a plan calling for a ceasefire in the Formosa Straits linked to a Nationalist withdrawal from the Quemoy and Matsu islands.

Under this plan, the Nationalists would be given broader Allied guarantees for the defense of Formosa and the United Nations might be asked to go on record opposing use of force to settle the Formosa crisis.

There is no official word that the United States is ready to ask the Nationalists to consider withdrawing from the off-shore Quemoy and Matsu islands.

However, the feeling that the United States is actively undertaking some new approach to the Formosa crisis developed after:

1. Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, left Wednesday with Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson for talks with the Nationalist Chinese authorities on Formosa. Radford and Robertson may have been picked by Mr. Eisenhower to test Nationalist views on truce possibilities.

2. Officials reported that the Chinese Reds are working hard to increase their ability to launch air strikes on Formosa and the off-shore islands.

3. Recent recurring reports that the United States is unwilling to risk a Far Eastern war that could break out if the Quemoy-Matsu islands were attacked by the Chinese Reds.

A new case of uneasiness over the Far East descended on the capital after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles conferred Sunday at Augusta with the President.

Dulles said he and the President had talked over "the grave implications of an extensive buildup, now in progress, by the Chinese Communists of offensive airpower on the China mainland opposite Formosa."

Inquest Tonight In Wenzel Death

An inquest will be held at the Saline county court house at seven o'clock tonight into the death of Betty Jo Wenzel, 23, Shawneetown, fatally injured Sunday morning in an auto crash west of Harrisburg. Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons announced today.

Last night Coroner Gibbons conducted an inquest into the death of W. W. Hayden, 23, Carmi, fatally burned Saturday afternoon in an oil fire in the oil field northeast of Eldorado. The inquest was held at the Eldorado city hall.

The jury found that Hayden's death was due to shock caused by burns received in a gas explosion at the drilling operation where he was employed. Testimony revealed that burns covered his entire body.

Barter, Simonds Receive Joint $158,844 Contract

The J. D. Barter Construction Co., Harrisburg, and E. T. Simonds Construction Co., Carbondale, have been awarded a joint contract for construction of a continuous steel beam bridge on Federal aid secondary route 893 over the North Fork of Saline river, 2 1/2 miles west of Ridgway, and 0.41 mile of gravel or crushed stone surface course. The joint bid was for $158,844.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Propaganda Forum

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The Communist axis counts upon scoring a major propaganda victory at the 29-nation Afro-Asian conference at Bandung, Indonesia. But an alert West, working through its friends at the council table, may do much to reverse the result.

The task will not be easy. Red China's Premier Chou En-lai may well play the leading role. Though largely sponsored by India's Premier Nehru, professedly neutral, the meeting's posture significantly leaves out South Korea, Nationalist China and Israel.

But despite the evident effort on somebody's part to load the roster against the West, the lineup has its favorable aspects. Only two of the participants have outright Communist regimes. Six are neutral, eight can be classed as anti-Soviet, and 12 as positively pro-West.

It is from this latter group that important support can be expected for Western policies in Asia and Africa. Particularly, two Manila Pact powers, Pakistan and the Philippines, plan active advocacy of truly democratic freedoms in opposition to the fraudulent Red variety.

The Communists will be dispensing anti-West venom with their usual spray-gun tactics. We are going to hear much about U. S. "warmongering," the menace of the American atom bomb, and the grinding inhumanity of the capitalist system.

Meanwhile the Reds will be strutting in their usual phony peace pose, bearing the dove high aloft to distract attention from the budding weapons beneath their tunics. And we will get the old refrain from Kremlin Alley about the wondrous healing effects of communism on mass poverty.

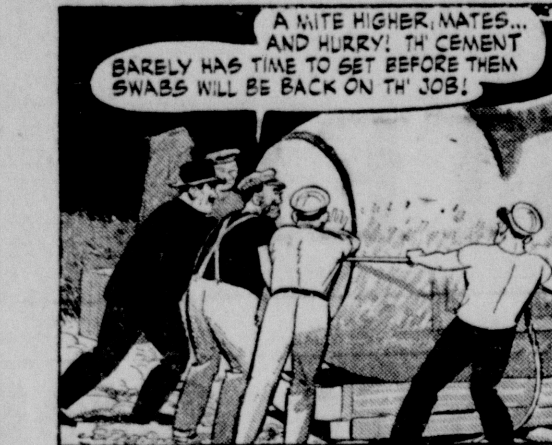

Fortunately for us, we will have in addition to our friends at the council table some 65 U. S. correspondents prepared to present the conference's deliberations in full and truthful perspective. The story they tell can be of immense value in counteracting the inevitable flood of Red poison.

For the Communists the Bandung affair has taken on added importance since the colossal flop of their recent 18-nation gathering at New Delhi, India. That meeting, called under informal sponsorship of certain Indian leaders, was so blatantly a Communist shouting forum that even Nehru pulled out his Congress party delegates on opening day. A third of all delegates failed to show up.

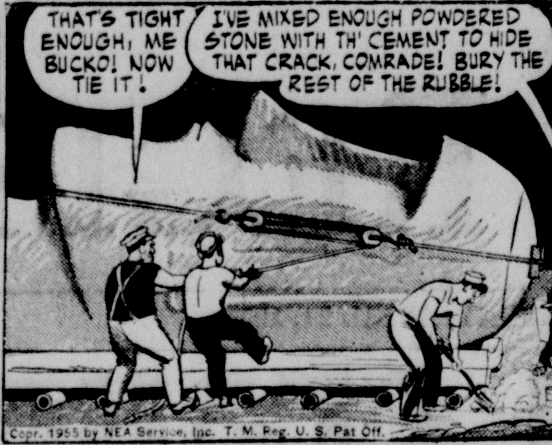

We must pray that our diplomats have schooled our friends at Bandung in America and Western views so that these will be a forceful offset to the terrible Red tirades ahead. Up to now our efforts to get the American message across in the less privileged lands of Asia and Africa have not met with smashing success.

Bandung is a great challenge. We want to save the uncommitted Afro-Asian peoples from Red slavery. The slave-masters will be decked in their most alluring garb at this meeting, spouting attractive offers. It is a rare chance for us, not merely to strip off the false attire of communism but to show the strength and substance and humanity of the free democratic peoples.

U. S. Must Not Abandon UN, Hoover Says

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today the United Nations "has not fulfilled our hopes" but "I have no notion that we can abandon any organization of nations that makes for peace."

He told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee he has "no belief that under present circumstances" the U. N. charter can be "effectively amended because of the weight of the Communists in the Security Council."

Asked by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) whether the United States should attempt to "throw Russia out" of the U. N., Mr. Hoover said any such process would be "extremely complicated."

"My own conclusion is that we have got to go on and worry with the Russians in the United Nations in the hope that things will get better," Mr. Hoover said.

The 80-year-old former chief executive added, however, that there is "no reason why amendments should not be proposed and effectively ventilated" for the world to study.

Menzies Puts Finger On Cause Of Ruckus on Yalta Papers

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—(NEA) State to give the Yalta text to any newspaper without the consent of the Secretary himself would have been a monumental breach of security. It would have made the still-unknown Army officer who gave the FBI report to Sen. Joe McCarthy look like a two-bit pick-pocket by comparison.

That there was a carefully considered plan to make the Yalta papers public is further borne out by the fact that to date nobody in the State Department has been punished for the violation of security.

A SENATE INQUIRY INTO how this plan was conceived and why would probably be more revealing than another long-winded Pearl Harbor-type investigation into the contents of the Yalta papers themselves.

It must have been evident to even the lowest sub-editor who worked on the papers that as an American political issue, they were a dud. All they served was the American idea of getting all the personal dirt and petty differences on the record, regardless of who might be hurt.

Internationally, there were bound to be repercussions. Publication of the Yalta record violated diplomatic confidences. Among European statesmen they are sacred.

There is a further angle to this in the proposal which Sen. Walter George of Georgia has made for a new Big Three conference between President Eisenhower, Churchill and Khrushchev, Bulganin, Zhukov or whomever the Russians want to send.

If it is a goldfish bowl conference, nothing will be accomplished. If the Big Three can talk confidentially, and if their confidences are respected, they might get some place.

Scouts to Collect Paper, Rags North Part of Town Saturday

Members of Scout Troop and Explorer Post No. 23 will conduct a drive to collect paper and clean rags Saturday with the north half of the city to be canvassed.

People should have their paper and rags tied up and trucks will pick them up.

This Saturday the area from Raymond avenue to the north city limits will be canvassed. The following Saturday the remainder of the city including Dorrisville and Gaskins City will be canvassed.

THE BRITISH FOR THEIR PART can't understand the American political system of laying all papers on the table face up, holding open Congressional hearings, letting a lot of political leaders in public, attributing to one and all the worst possible motives of treason and treachery, having a grand row, and then trying to come to a policy decision that makes sense.

"We should all talk to each other in private," counseled Prime Minister Menzies. "What of it if we differ—Dulles with Eden, or Eden with me—while policy is in the making? We should get to understand each other through a deep stream of consciousness. The little differences are unimportant."

"Suppose we should encounter World War III," Mr. Menzies continued. "Does anyone doubt for a minute that we'll all be in it? No one will expect the United States to go it alone. But what we need is practice in understanding each other before we get into it."

The Communists always seek to divide before they conquer, the Prime Minister recalled. Every time the Western leaders allow themselves to be divided in one of these minor disputes, said Mr. Menzies, "there is joy in the peculiar heavens of Communism."

IT IS AGAINST THIS BACKGROUND that the decision to release the text of the 1954 Yalta conference between President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin must be judged.

There is no longer any pretense in Washington that the half-million words of Yalta documents were "leaked" to the newspapers. They were "planted"—deliberately.

Democratic Effort to Punish Ike Supporters in '52 Boils to Showdown

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—An effort to punish top Democrats who supported President Eisenhower in 1952 was boiling today toward angry showdown.

The plan is to read them out of the party.

This was the opening round of a controversy which could darken Democratic presidential hopes next year. Republican prospects were correspondingly brightened.

The disputed question is this: What is a bona fide Democrat?

The New Deal-Americans for Democratic Action elements of the party evidently want a definition which would bar 1952 bolters from next year's Democratic National Convention. Named specifically for punishment were former Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana and Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas. There would be others.

Former Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell told the United Press the right of these three to sit in next year's convention would be challenged if they appeared with delegate credentials.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, agreed that Byrnes, Kennon and Shivers should be challenged.

"They are not entitled to be in the convention," Sparkman told the United Press. "Unless they say they are good Democrats and will support the 1952 ticket. In 1952 they broke their promise given to the convention to support the ticket. They are not entitled to take part in the 1956 convention unless they announce their return to the party and promise to support the nominees. They are Republicans as of today so far as I am concerned."

But some other influential Southern Democrats slapped Mitchell down.

Sen. Price Daniel of Texas, who supported Mr. Eisenhower in 1952, said: "I doubt that Mr. Mitchell is in a position to speak for the party on this subject."

Rep. James P. Richards, from Byrnes' home state, said that if Mitchell "is quoted correctly, he's cockeyed... he or anyone else who tries that is cockeyed. They'll re-learn a lesson that I thought they had learned before, and they'll learn it more emphatically by losing more of the South than they did before."

Some other Southerners who didn't want to be quoted said that Mitchell is stirring up trouble unnecessarily, that some of the men Mitchell named may not go to the convention anyway.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas declined comment. As permanent chairman of the 1952 convention, he was the one individual most responsible for stopping the "Young Turk" drive to unseat rebellious Southern delegates. He has indicated a number of times in the past that he is all for letting bygones be bygones and welcoming the bolters back to the party.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minnesota, a notable member of ADA, backed Mitchell's suggestion. In a 1952 pre-convention statement, Humphrey said the party did not need the Southern states.

Open House May 1 at Anna State Hospital

The Anna State hospital, a division of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, in conjunction with the National Association of Mental Health, will hold an open house at the hospital on Sunday, May 1, from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Dr. R. C. Stock, superintendent, announced today.

"I would like to take this opportunity to extend a cordial invitation to the people of southern Illinois to visit our hospital to learn more about mental illness and why it is our number one health problem," Dr. Stock added.

During the afternoon there will be a program consisting of short, illustrated talks dealing with the new drugs and their use and effect in combating mental illness.

There will be a presentation of Psychiatric Aide Achievement awards, given each year by the hospital to those aides who have done an outstanding job. The aides who will receive awards this year are: Mrs. Ivo Evers, Anna; Fred Gould, Vienna; and Mrs. Etta Eddieleman, Anna. There will be displays of the various departments and exhibits of the patients' handiwork. Following the program, visitors will be invited to take one of the many conducted tours of the hospital.

Many activities will transpire at the Anna State hospital during Mental Health Week, May 1 through May 7, and further details of the week's program will appear in The Register at a later date.

Women's Missionary Societies Of General Baptist Churches Hold Convention At Omaha

The Women's Missionary societies of the Southern Illinois General Baptist churches met recently with the Omaha church in the annual one day convention. This is the first year southern Illinois churches have had their own one day convention. They formerly have been combined with Indiana.

The morning program opened with group singing followed by devotion, special music and discussion of topics by different ladies from the various churches. The theme for the convention was "Marching Forward Together" and the program for the day tied in with this idea. Mrs. Jesse Downey had composed words and music to a song and titled it "Marching Forward Together."

At noon, lunch was served at the church and the afternoon program was highlighted by a talk by Rev. Ford, one of the General Baptist missionaries who has recently returned from Saipan where he served as missionary. He and his wife gave a report on conditions in Saipan and how the mission work is growing and being accepted by the Saipanese. The General Baptists have eight missionaries who are in full time work on the field and several who are in the States receiving training for further mission work. The missionaries do not stay too long a time on the islands as the climate is harmful to the health of people who are not accustomed to it. Therefore, there are workers in the States who further their education while waiting for assignments to other fields.

Officers were elected for the coming year and it was decided that the 1956 one day convention would be held at Georgia Church near Carmi, on April 6, 1956.

Those attending from the Harrisburg church were Sylvia Fowler, Dena Ellis, Blanche Yuhas, Sadie Shewmaker, Geraldine Ewell, Stella Cooper, Ruby Wallace, Ola Maszaros, Ollie Ferrell, Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Vinyard, Louise Brinkley, Eunice Black, Ona Melton.

Mrs. W. W. Wheatley
Hostess to Past Presidents
Of American Legion Auxiliary

The past presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary met with Mrs. W. W. Wheatley Tuesday night for the regular business and social hour.

Plans were discussed for "Poppy Day" which will be held in May. Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Harry Barter, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. Kenneth O'Neal, Mrs. Freda Keltner, Mrs. Trafton Dennis, Mrs. Ernest Cozart, Mrs. C. E. Wing, Mrs. C. W. Whitely, Mrs. John Schwartz.

The May meeting will be with Mrs. Wing.

Dr. L. I. Webb returned to Harrisburg late yesterday after appearing on the program of the 98th annual meeting of the Michigan State dental association, which was held in Hotel Statler, Detroit, April 18-20.

Mrs. Pauline (Johnny) Wilkins is a patient at the Lightner hospital where she underwent surgery Tuesday morning. Her room number is 214.

The Saline County Council of American Legion will meet tonight at 7:30 at Harrisburg post 167, 20 South Main street.

President Holds Key to Postal Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower today appeared to hold the key to whether a half-million postal workers will get a pay raise.

Both sides agreed that Mr. Eisenhower could effectively scuttle any wage increase this year if he carries out his implied threat to veto any bill providing an increase greater than 7.6 per cent.

The House ignored the threat Wednesday and approved an 8.2 per cent boost.

Republican leaders said bluntly that the President would veto the measure. But Democratic leaders scoffed at the idea, saying that Mr. Eisenhower would never veto an 8.2 per cent bill after indicating a willingness to approve a 7.6 per cent measure.

The House agreed Wednesday to a Democratic-led move to hike the pay raise from the average 7.6 per cent approved by the House Post Office Committee.

The key vote for the boost, proposed by Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), was 224-189, not sufficient for the two-thirds majority necessary to override a presidential veto. The vote was along party lines, with Democrats supporting and Republicans opposing Moss' move. The vote on final passage of the measure was 324-85.

Before approving the bill, the House wrote into it provisions, also proposed by Moss, to make the raises retroactive to March 1 and to compel the postmaster general to report to Congress on the changes he makes on the postal job classifications.

The measure now goes back to the Senate which earlier this year passed a bill granting a flat 10 per cent increase not only to the postal workers, but also to 1,200,000 other federal Civil Service employees.

Ceylon Attack On Communism Angers Chou

BANDUNG (U.P.)—Ceylon today linked a proposal for a trusteeship for Formosa with the strongest attack against Communism yet before the 29-nation Afro-Asian conference. The attack sent Red China's scowling Chou En-lai striding angrily from the conference chamber.

Chou wrangled face to face for 10 minutes with Ceylonese Premier Sir John Kotelawala at the end of the political committee session. Chou also demanded the right to reply to Kotelawala's charges Friday.

The Ceylonese prime minister's attack on the Chinese Communists was his second of the day.

And he caught all the delegates by surprise with his proposal for a Formosa trusteeship which also would include withdrawal of the U. S. 7th Fleet from Formosa waters.

Matsu and Quemoy islands would be given to the Reds.

The trusteeship, under the United Nations or the five Colombo powers—Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia—would abolish the Nationalist Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The trusteeship would remain in effect until Formosa could become independent after some kind of a plebiscite.

Douglas, Gray Ask Completion Devil's Kitchen Dam

WASHINGTON — Senator Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.) today urged to Senate Appropriations committee to recommend the appropriation of funds to complete the Devils Kitchen dam, which is a part of the Crab Orchard project in southern Illinois.

Appearing with Congressman Kenneth Gray (D., Ill.) of the Twenty-fifth congressional district in Illinois, Senator Douglas told the subcommittee headed by Senator Hayden (D., Ariz.) that the completion of the Devils Kitchen dam would help southern Illinois in three major respects.

First, he said, it would help to meet a very serious water shortage which has resulted from the drought of recent years and water purchases by the nearby cities of Carbondale, Marion, Carterville and Herrin would make the project very nearly self-supporting.

Senator Douglas emphasized in the second place that completion of the Devils Kitchen dam would provide a more continuous water supply that would make it possible to attract new industry in southern Illinois and thus meet the very serious unemployment situation that still prevails. He pointed out finally that the completion of the project which had been promised in the years before World War II would also expand the recreational and wildlife opportunities for the benefit of citizens from a wide area.

Congressman Gray detailed for the subcommittee the needs of the area around the Crab Orchard project and the contribution which the completion of Devils Kitchen dam would make in the development of southern Illinois which has been so hard hit by the closing down of coal mines, fluorspar mines and other businesses. The subcommittee took the requests of Senator Douglas and Congressman Gray under advisement.

Liberace Fanciest Dressed, Highest Paid at Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U.P.)—Liberace became the world's highest paid night club entertainer Wednesday night in a $2,000 silver lame suit with matching tie, hair, shoes and piano seat.

The famed television matinee idol, smiling his all, opened the 8½-million-dollar Riviera Hotel in this gambling capital with a supper club show for which he was paid $50,000 a week.

Liberace's outfit won him the honor of the fanciest dressed male star to appear in Las Vegas. Marlene Dietrich electrified the resort town with her bare bosom dress and Terry Moore with a clinging black gown last year.

Liberace equaled the honors for the men in a silver suit designed by famed Paris couturier Christian Dior.

For his finale, the pearly-toothed pianist bounced out before 500 applauding tourists and celebrities wearing a 10-pound black jacket embroidered with 1,000,363 shimmering bugle beads.

Before his TV fame, Liberace appeared in Las Vegas for $750 to $5,500 a week.

"I remember Milwaukee when my brother and I pulled a wagon to the county relief for groceries so I am very grateful for this high salary," he said.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

THE STORY: When the guerrilla bands operated along the Kansas-Missouri border during the Civil War, Jesse James tries vainly to join them. Success comes at last when he is accepted by "Bloody Bill" Anderson's raiders.

III

The youthful soldier aboard the North Missouri's train No. 66 was surely not 18. The freshness of his skin, his lack of beard, the tousle of his blond hair all bore clear witness to that. A Howard County boy, he wore the uniform of the Sixth Missouri Guards, and was not nearly so interested in the approaching stop as were his coach companions. He had, after all, seen Centralia many times.

But as the train slowed now, his blue eyes suddenly narrowed at the milling rank of horsemen blocking the station-house. He gasped aloud, his frightened glance fastening on the slender, gun-belted youth sidestepping the fine black horse along the depot platform. "It's Jesse James!"

Ten minutes after his startled cry, the boy was kneeling alongside the North Missouri's tracks facing the morning sun and his Maker. Flanking him were the other Union soldiers taken off the train at gunpoint by the rebellious guerrillas. Down the long line of kneeling prisoners Jesse, Frank, George Todd and Bloody Bill Anderson moved methodically. When the last of their guns had barked its heavy echo across the meadow beyond the tracks, the toll of Federal dead stood at 75—every last Union soldier found aboard the North Missouri's train No. 66.

With the grisly execution done, the guerrillas gathered in an orderly column of fours and rode unhurriedly out of town. When the last of them was gone, the dazed citizens of Centralia gathered to stare at the soldier dead. Shortly, still moving in stunned silence, the townfolk produced mattocks, spades and shovels. Within the hour, the last of the pitiful windrow of trooper bodies was spaded under, buried without memory of name or rank in a common, open grave.

Five miles south of Centralia, riding ram-rod straight with Frank at the rear of the retreating guerrilla column, Jesse looked for Cole. Presently he saw him, jogging his bay, head down and alone, some distance ahead.

Cole glanced up as Jesse eased the black down to match the jog-trot of the bay. "And where were you when we lined up them blue-bellies?" demanded the latter beligerently. "I didn't see no Younger lead being put to use."

Cole stared back at him, saw that he was blinking rapidly. Dingus was really mad about it; he wasn't just horsing now.

Somewhere in the back of his adventurous mind, Cole Younger had a line. As long as he followed Jesse, and he followed him to the last, he never stepped across it. He had known about that line since barefoot boyhood. He knew, now, that it would cut between him and Dingus James until the last horse was shot out from under either one of them.

When the kneeling troopers had just now slumped into the gravel of the North Missouri's right-of-way, his gun had been cold in its holster. He had always accounted for his fair share along with the others, that was certain. But he had never shot a defenseless human being. And he had never killed a dog.

Up to Centralia the outlaw campaign had been a signal success. Now, the North was at last aroused. Blue patrols rode the back-country lanes around the clock. As usual, the guerrillas vanished. And, as usual, waited their chance to re-gather and strike again. The chance did not come. By the fall of 1864 the raiders were forced to the last resort—attaching themselves to some unit of the regular Confederate Army. The unit they chose was the Missouri Corps of General Sterling Price.

Jesse, second now only to Todd, Anderson and Quantrill in the guerrilla command, led his followers into Price's regiment late in September. Riding with the regular cavalry of fabled fellow-Missourians, Jo Shelby, he was in time to see George Todd killed leading a charge in the October raid on Independence. The following month he saw the bearded head of Bloody Bill Anderson speared upon a telegraph pole in Missouri City, where he fell in a raid designed to cover Price's retreat to the south.

The guerrillas, following Shelby and Price in their desperate attempt to cut their way through to Texas, got only as far as White River, Ark. There Quantrill proposed to abandon the regulars and strike for Kentucky. Jesse flatly refused the defection. Quantrill departed with his followers that same evening. His brief ride into the land of the blue grass, with its swift oblivion under the guns of the Union guerrillas of Edward Terrill in Spencer County, Kentucky, is schoolboy history in the Border States.

Frank had gone with Quantrill, and so had Jim Younger, Cole's dour older brother. Cole, himself, sickened by Centralia and evidencing the only documentable loyalty to the South of any of the outlaw band, save for Frank's bottled-out tour with Price's original command of State Guards, had enlisted in the regular Confederate Army and been transferred to Louisiana. Of the fading hierarchy of border irregulars, only Jesse and a hard core of Todd's and Anderson's faithful remained.

The guerrilla horsemen were galloping through Cane Hill, into the Cherokee Nation. The tiny frontier town was too empty. Too quiet. Too late, they realized that the wind lay behind them. What came with that wind, blowing suddenly upon their startled rears, was a long column of Jennison's Fifteenth Kansas Cavalry.

Term Surprise National Guard Test a Success

By United Press
Hundreds of thousands of "week-end" soldiers and airmen today ended the nation's first peacetime test of its National Guard "Minuteman" strength.

The surprise "Operation Minuteman," involving an estimated 400,000 men in all the 48 states and Alaska, was apparently a complete success.

National Guard officials who directed the giant exercise from headquarters in Washington said it showed that the nation's citizen soldiers are ready to fight back against a sneak attack at practically a moment's notice.

"Operation Minuteman" began at 6:30 EST Wednesday night and lasted into the early hours of this morning.

A spot check showed that about 86.7 per cent of the nation's National Guard force mobilized on the double and rushed to battle points as if they had been rehearsing for weeks.

Within 10 minutes after the alert sounded an Air National Guard plane was in the air. Within 20 minutes to an hour, hundreds of jets and bombers were streaking across the skies.

On the ground, National Guardsmen raced to their armories and hurried into uniforms. Within an hour they were patrolling key defense points, many of them armed with loaded rifles.

State adjutant generals had known the alert was coming, but national headquarters deliberately kept the date and time a secret for as long as possible.

Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, chief of the National Guard Bureau at Washington, said "The knowledge that a great force of citizen soldiers in units located in more than 2,400 communities is alert and ready should be comforting to the American public."

Rites Held Today For Mrs. Jack Potts

Funeral services for Mrs. Jack Potts, Waltersburg resident who died Tuesday at the home of relatives on Harrisburg Road 4, were held today at 1:30 p. m. at the Rottman funeral chapel in Golconda. Rev. Henry S. Barger officiated and burial was in the Collier cemetery in the Lusk community of Pope county.

Report 74 New Cases of Polio

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Public Health Service said today that 74 new cases of polio were reported in the week ending last Saturday. It said 87 cases were reported in last year's comparable week.

The nation entered the so-called "polio year" this month. For the first two weeks of the year 135 new cases were reported as compared with 184 cases in the similar period of 1954.

Eagles Defeat McLeansboro in Dual Track Meet

Eldorado walloped McLeansboro in a dual track and field meet, held at Eldorado Wednesday afternoon, 9:15 to 10:30 p.m. McLeansboro had the individual star of the meet in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the broad jump and took second in the high jump.

Coch Al Adams has announced he will enter a large squad in the West Frankfort relay Saturday. Eldorado will be represented in all relays except the hurdle events and most of the individual events.

Tuesday afternoon Eldorado travelled to Fairfield for a freshman-sophomore track meet, with the host school taking honors by a close margin.

Fred Wilmoth Jr. Is Accepted At West Point

Fred Wilmoth Jr.

Fred Wilmoth Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilmoth of Harrisburg, has been accepted for entrance in the United States Military Academy at West Point and will report there July 5.

Young Wilmoth is now a sophomore at the University of Illinois, where he lettered in football as a tackle last fall.

The young griddier starred in both football and basketball at Harrisburg Township high school, being chosen as center on the All-South Seven basketball team in 1953, the year Harrisburg won the conference cage championship.

He received an appointment to West Point last September from C. W. "Runt" Bishop, then the congressman from this district. On March 1 he went to Fort Knox, Ky., and took the entrance examinations and the physical exam, which he has passed.

It was learned that young Wilmoth has since a child had a desire to go to the military academy at West Point.

Also reporting to West Point on July 5 will be David Frazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Frazier of Centralia, former Saline county residents. Mr. Frazier at one time was city editor of the Eldorado Daily Journal and his wife, Betty, worked for about a year as a news reporter for The Daily Register while Mr. Frazier was overseas during World War II, when David was a small boy.

David took his examinations at Fort Sheridan, Ill., last month and this week received notice he had been accepted. His appointment was from Cong. Charles Vursell of Salem.

Goose Tatum is Fired from Globetrotters

CHICAGO (U)—Goose Tatum, the clown prince of basketball and at one time the highest paid player in the game, has been fired from the Harlem Globetrotters by owner coach Abe Saperstein.

Saperstein said Wednesday he had unconditionally released the veteran center for going AWOL and would not renew his contract.

The long-armed, solemn-faced center was suspended March 15, Saperstein said, "because of repeated violations of team rules, culminated by his unauthorized absence from the squad through a series of seven advertised and scheduled appearances."

Saperstein apparently hoped the "Goose," known for his crowd-pleasing antics and great ball-handling, would ask for reinstatement.

But, Saperstein said, "Tatum has not been in touch with me since I suspended him."

The owner's announcement marked the end of more than 14 years of association between Saperstein and Tatum, including about 11 years with the fabulous Globetrotters.

Dodgers Hold No Hard Feelings for Ridzik's Wild Pitches

BROOKLYN (U)—There were no Dodger hard feelings against Philadelphia pitcher Steve Ridzik today even though he hit Carl Furillo, Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson with pitched balls Wednesday night.

The consensus was that he was wild, not ornery.

Robinson, whose helmet took the full brunt of a Ridzik pitch in the seventh inning said:

"He was just wild, that's all. There were two men on when he hit me and Duke (Snider) was coming up next, so there isn't much question that it was an accident."

Big 10 to Sell Package TV for Five Saturdays

Other Games Will Be Included in Regional Program

CHICAGO (U)—The Big Ten probably will sell its "package" for television of its football games on five "regional" Saturdays at a special meeting in the next two or three weeks, Assistant Commissioner Bill Reed said today.

The conference has notified potential bidders that it would be glad to discuss the "package" for the next week and that it would establish a deadline for bids approximately one week later.

"We'll probably have a special conference meeting within a week or so thereafter to decide on it," Reed said. "We doubt that any network which might bid would want to hold off too long to settle the matter."

It was likely that the "package" would include four or perhaps five conference games.

On the first Saturday, Sept. 24, only one conference game was scheduled, Michigan State at Indiana, while other games were Kansas State at Iowa, Missouri at Michigan, Washington at Minnesota, Miami of Ohio at Northwestern, Nebraska at Ohio State, College of Pacific at Purdue and Marquette at Wisconsin.

Remainder of Schedule

Oct. 8, games available would be Illinois at Ohio State, Indiana at Iowa, Army at Michigan, Stanford at Michigan State, Minnesota at Northwestern, and Wisconsin at Purdue.

Games on Oct. 22 would be Illinois at Michigan State, Indiana at Northwestern, Michigan at Minnesota, Ohio State at Wisconsin, and Notre Dame at Purdue.

Nov. 5, games will be Michigan at Illinois, Indiana at Ohio State, Minnesota at Iowa, Michigan State at Purdue and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

On Nov. 12, games will be Illinois at Wisconsin, Indiana at Michigan, Iowa at Ohio State, Minnesota at Michigan State, and Northwestern at Purdue.

Selling Exclusive Rights

Reed explained that the buyer of the "package" will have exclusive rights to Big Ten games, but that should it decide it wants a game involving a non-conference team, it would have to make its own deal with the other party.

"Whatever it has to pay the other school would be in excess of our contract," he said.

Hence, it was likely the buyer would display a strict state of conference games because all would be covered in the Big Ten purchase. Though only Michigan State at Indiana was scheduled Sept. 24, it probably would be as attractive as any non-league contest on the program.

The NCAA national program will use four Big Ten schools. Hence every Big Ten member may appear twice on the regional program, except for Iowa, Michigan, Ohio State and Michigan State. The latter four will appear once nationally and thus can appear only once on a regional show.

Greater Egyptian Conference Play Day at Rosiclare

The sixth annual Greater Egyptian conference Play Day event will be staged Friday afternoon and evening at Rosiclare high school with six of the loop schools participating.

The Play Day activities include three major contest events. The volleyball tournament is a single elimination affair. A strength contest consists of squat thrusts, push-ups, pull ups and rope climb. A third event is the table tennis tourney.

Pairings for the volleyball tournament at Rosiclare against Equality with the winner meeting Ridgway in the upper round. Cave tangles with Pope Co. with the winner meeting Galatia in the lower bracket.

The events will commence at 4 p. m. Ridgway captured the table tennis and volleyball championships last year with Cave taking the strength contest.

Carrier Mills Wildcats Win Third Straight Baseball Game

Carrier Mills, unbeaten in high school baseball play for the season, is scheduled to meet Ridgway this afternoon on the Wildcats' diamond. Play ball time is 3:30.

Tuesday afternoon Carrier Mills won its third game in as many starts with a 5-4 victory over Galatia. The game was played at Galatia.

The game was a 5-inning affair by agreement. Carrier Mills scored five runs on eight hits and made three errors. Galatia had four runs, seven hits and two miscues.

Carrier Mills scored one in the first, three in the second and another in the third. Galatia had a single tally in the second and three in the third.

New Earthquakes Hit Areas of Greece

ATHENS, Greece (U)—Strong new earthquakes today hit devastated areas of Greece that still were digging out of the heavy quakes earlier in the week.

The chief of police at Volos reported to the Ministry of Interior that 5 persons were known dead and 51 injured and that there probably were more victims.

Dodgers Tie Record with Nine Straight Victories; Card Rookies Blank Reds

By United Press

Those jack rabbit Brooklyn Dodgers may be clear out of sight before you can say Jack Robinson.

Winners of nine straight games already, the Dodgers can establish a new modern major league record for fast getaways by defeating the Phillies today for their 10th victory in a row since the bell rang.

The Dodgers tied the record of nine in a row held jointly by the New York Giants, St. Louis Browns and themselves when they came from behind to overtake the Phillies, 3-2, Wednesday night. They looked so good in winning that even their ultra-conservative skipper, Walter Alton, couldn't contain himself.

"This is the first time since I've taken over the club that it has ever played this well in the three important departments — hitting, pitching and fielding," Alton declared.

Ample Reason to Glow

The usually solemn Brooklyn boss had ample reason to glow inasmuch as the world champion Giants are now six games behind the Dodgers and the second place Milwaukee Braves are two-and-a-half games to the rear.

Brooklyn beat the Phillies the hard way after falling behind, 2-0, to them Wednesday night. Steve Ridzik held the Dodgers hitless until Sandy Amoros doubled with two out in the sixth. Then he walked two men in the seventh, hit Jackie Robinson with a pitch, and walked Duke Snider to force in a run. Lynn Lovenguth replaced Ridzik and was greeted by Gil Hodges' two-run single. All told, Brooklyn made only three hits, but they were enough for Billy Loos to register the second win of the year even though Clem Labine relieved him in the eighth.

Cubs Fading
Bobby Thomson was the big man in Milwaukee's 9-5 victory over the fading Chicago Cubs. Thomson drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a single with the bases full. Lew Burdette was the winner but rookie Humberto Robinson came on from the bullpen in the ninth to strike out Hank Sauer with the bases loaded to save Burdette's second triumph.

Left-hander Luis Arroyo of the Cardinals made an auspicious major league debut, holding the Redlegs to five hits in the seven and two-third innings he worked and getting credit for a 3-0 victory. Herb Moford, another rookie hurler, held the losers in check over the last one-and-one-third innings. Joe Frazier hit a two-run homer off loser Art Fowler in the fourth inning.

The poor Pirates apparently were on the road to their first victory of the season with a 3-0 lead over the Giants but rain postponed the game after Felipe Montemayor bashed a three-run homer off Ruben Gomez. Dick Littlefield had worked three scoreless frames for the BuCs and contributed a single, too.

Baltimore Wins First
Baltimore registered its first victory of the American league season after six successive setbacks by beating New York, 6-3, as Erv Palica and Ray Moore collaborated on a six-hit pitching job. Two ex-Yankees, catcher Hal Smith and shortstop Willie Miranda, figured prominently in the Orioles' triumph. Smith connected for a two-run homer in the fifth and Miranda sparked afield, making three spectacular stops and figuring in two key double plays. Bob Grim suffered his second loss. Palica was the winner.

Willard Nixon of the Red Sox pitched a neat five-hitter to beat the Senators, 1-0, and move Boston a game and a half in front in the American league. Boston got to Chuck Stobbs for its only run in the fourth on a pair of scratch hits and rookie Norm Zaichin's single.

The Chicago-Detroit game was rained out while Cleveland and Kansas City were not scheduled.

The Indian Love Lyrics were the work of Amy Woodforde Finden, one of the most gifted of modern English song writers.

Former Ridgway Woman Dies

Miss Luona Monroe, 60, former resident of Ridgway, died in the state hospital at Elgin Wednesday. The body is now at the Cox funeral home in Ridgway. The funeral will be at the Ridgway Presbyterian church at a time to be announced later.

She is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Irene Martin, Leamington; Mrs. Glenna Elkhorn, Chicago; Mrs. Elaine Roach, Iowa; Frank Monroe, Carbondale; James and Ira, Flint, Mich.; Paul Monroe, Chicago and Wilson of California.

$5.1 Billion Gov't Deficit in Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON — The government's deficit for the current fiscal year was $5,138,000,000 at the end of March.

It is officially estimated the deficit will be $4,500,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year June 30.

House Committee Approves Broyles Bills

SPRINGFIELD — The Broyles bills, requiring loyalty oaths from public employees and banning membership in groups listed as subversive, reached the Illinois House floor today.

The bills were voted out of the House Military Affairs committee late Wednesday with a favorable recommendation. The bills could be advanced to passage stage in any day they are called. The Senate already has passed the bills.

The committee voted 16-8 in favor of the first bill, to require employers at all levels of government to take loyalty oath before they could be paid.

The vote on the second measure was 15-9. This bill would make it a felony to commit subversive acts or belong to an organization on the U. S. attorney general's subversive list or any other group the Legislature adds to the list.

One of three amendments offered unsuccessfully in the committee by Rep. Alan J. Dixon (D-Bellefonte) would have eliminated the U. S. attorney general's subversive list from the bill.

Another amendment would have restricted the bill's effect to state elected and appointive workers. A third Dixon amendment to the loyalty oath bill would have required conviction of disloyalty before a person could be fired from his job.

Ten witnesses on the bills were heard before testimony was stopped for the vote.

An equal job opportunities bill, sometimes called the fair employment practices act, was kept in committee another week when opponents of the measure questioned whether a quorum was present to vote on the measure.

The House Labor and Industry committee heard opponents of the measure term it "useless" and charge the bill would create "a bureaucracy of almost unlimited power to harass employers."

Supporters of the bill were heard last week.

The Illinois Manufacturers Assn. presented two witnesses against the bill.

Both houses of the Legislature adjourned today until next Tuesday. The Senate held a perfunctory session while the House met for an hour, passing seven bills.

A measure passed by the House would give a driver involved in an accident 98 hours to report it, or 48 hours after discharge from a hospital if injured, before being charged with leaving the scene of the accident.

The House Wednesday passed 84-47 a bill to prevent recovery of old age assistance through liens on the homes of aged recipients.

Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna), sponsor of the bill, said holding liens on old people's homes after their death was unjust. Powell said he feels so strongly about the bill that if it passes he'll never run for the Legislature again, feeling he has accomplished enough.

Rep. Robert L. Burhans (R-Peoria) and Richard Stengel (D-Rock Island) said they opposed the bill because it didn't help the aged but their heirs. "The sons and daughters who wouldn't support them when they lived will escape with the loot after they die," Stengel said.

The bill to buy a million dollars worth of Salk vaccine to give 250,000 children free shots was at passage stage in both houses. It could be passed by next Wednesday. Rep. W. J. Murphy (R-Round Lake) attacked the bill on the House floor Wednesday. He labeled it "socialized medicine" and criticized the limiting of free vaccine to only 250,000 of the "eight million" Illinois children.

The House passed a bill giving the absentee ballot to the sick and the disabled.

The Senate Appropriations committee voted favorably on a bill appropriating $300,000 for new powers to allow the attorney general to conduct local crime investigations and prosecutions.

Bills introduced Wednesday would:

Require that polls be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. instead of the present 6 a. m. to 5 p. m.

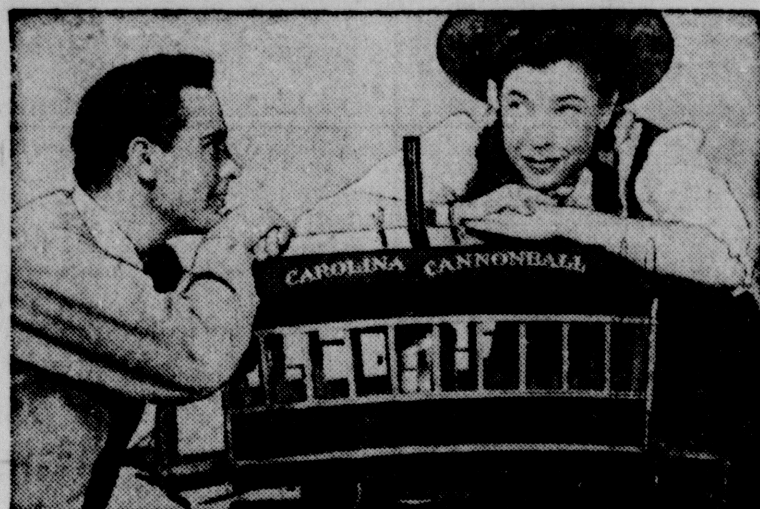

Raise maximum state assistance to the blind from $55 a month to $75. The measure also would exempt the first $50 a month of net income and make certain other provisions relaxing the amount of earned income for a blind person.

Require labeling of all chemically treated beef products.

Place a tax on retailers of soft drinks.

Permit persons sent to county jail for misdemeanors to work out their fines.

Provide for licensing and regulation of the practice of accounting by the Department of Registration and Education.

TWO FEATURES AT GRAND—It's love at first sight with Ross Elliott and Judy Canova in a scene from "Carolina Cannonball," to show at the Grand theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Also on the twin-feature program will be "Masterson of Kansas," starring George Montgomery, filmed in Technicolor.

Outline Draft Plans at Hearing

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department plans to draft 10,000 men a month during July, August and September and 9,000 a month in the succeeding nine months.

Asst. Defense Secretary Carter

L. Burgess revealed the draft plans Wednesday before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. The group is studying the administration's 34-billion-dollar military budget for the next fiscal year.

One of the world's worst volcanic tragedies was the frightful eruption of Mount Pelee, Martinique, in 1902, which killed 28,000.

THANKS, THANKS, A MILLION!

Neighbors:

I sincerely thank you for the splendid support you gave me in Tuesday's election.

To all of the successful candidates I offer my heartiest congratulations and wish for you the most successful administration our city has ever had. I wish again to say that, as in the past, I will work for everything that will be for the betterment of Harrisburg.

To all of my old friends and to the many new ones I have made during the campaign I wish to say that I will now give full time to the solicitation and servicing of Insurance with the Firm of ROSE & TAYLOR INSURANCE AGENCY, located in the Harrisburg National Bank Building.

Changing Population in Rural Areas Challenge to Churches

Workshop for Churchmen Held At SIU Tuesday

CARBONDALE, Ill. —The changing character of the population in southern Illinois—and the state—presents a growing challenge to ministers and lay leaders of rural and village churches today.

So nearly 40 area churchmen of various denominations were told at a workshop for southern Illinois ministers at Southern Illinois university Tuesday, "Evangelism in an area of declining population" was the workshop theme. The workshop was sponsored by the SIU Division of University Extension.

Rev. Wayne W. Hoxsie, Mt. Vernon Presbyterian minister, was chairman of the morning sessions at which population trends affecting churches were discussed.

Dr. C. L. Folse, University of Illinois rural sociologist, told the ministers that, although the Illinois population has grown more rapidly than the average for the nation, there is an unusual character about the change in population distribution in the state. It has a smaller proportion of agricultural population than any part of the nation outside the industrial East even though it is a great agricultural state. Two-thirds of the state's 8,000,000 people are urban.

Folse pointed out significant characteristics of the recent Illinois population growth. Of the 815,000 increase in population in the 10 years ending in 1950 the excess of births over deaths was 708,000. The balance came as a net gain due to population migration.

Decrease in Rural Areas

However, one of the big problems for rural churches is the changing character of the rural population, he pointed out. The actual farming population decreased 21 per cent during the 10 years. At the same time there was only a small increase within the limits of the cities and rural villages under 2,500 population had only a four per cent rise.

The big increase—69 per cent—was in the non-farming population, representing persons who live in the open country along today's highways but work in cities and towns. Two-thirds of the increase occurred in rural areas adjacent to large metropolitan centers.

At this point the village and the rural churches face significant challenges, he said. The farming population now is composed of older persons who may be satisfied with things as they are in the rural church. The non-farming rural population represents a younger age group now having larger families and desiring the benefits of urban living. The problem facing the professional and lay leadership of these churches today is to solve the differences between these population groups and to adjust the church program to the needs of the people in its area.

Similar problems were outlined by Dr. Oliver W. Beinhof, SIU associate professor of geology, who discussed the population, social, and economic trends in southern Illinois as factors in church organization and operation. He pointed out the area's under-developed economic condition, low agricultural production, and relatively low income of the population.

Community and industrial leadership is needed. Opportunities are not entirely absent in the area. Sixty-six per cent of the area is rural but in the rural areas 32 per cent of the population is non-farming. Modern highways make the population mobile and the conveniences of the city have come to the rural resident. Many women are employed and herein lies a problem in the church because they do not find the time to work there. Today the rural church must be able to assimilate the younger groups of these non-farmers or lose them.

Richard Poston, SIU community development specialist, addressed a luncheon meeting and Dr. Calvin Schnucker, University of Duquesne, Pa., the afternoon session. Rev. William Boatman, Murphysboro, was afternoon chairman.

Plan Distribution Of Civil Defense Identification Tags

Ray Altire, Civil Defense Director of Saline county, today announced plans for making Official Civil Defense identification tags available to all children and adults in this community.

The identification tags are authorized by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and are an important safety measure for everyone, Altire said. They provide quick identification which would be helpful in case of accident, sudden illness or any emergency, including air attacks.

Each tag is permanently stamped with the wearer's name plus the name and address of the person to be notified in an emergency. The wearer's birth date and religious preference also are stamped on the smooth metal tag which is carried on a non-tarnishable chain.

Through special arrangements, instructions for ordering Official Civil Defense identification tags may be obtained at displays in many grocery stores, Altire said.

He also reported that Civil Defense has tried to put this project into effect for three years but has been blocked by lack of personnel and funds. Recently, however, FCDA secured the help of a large food manufacturer in distributing official identification tags on a nation-wide, at-cost basis.

EDITORIAL SPEAKER. Andre Mouton, Chicago representative of the Port of New Orleans, will be the banquet speaker for the Southern Illinois Editorial association Friday at Giant City State Park Lodge.

Southern Illinois Is Gateway Of Mid-America

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. —The southern tip of Illinois has become the most important gateway of mid-America, a University of Illinois geography professor said today. It is a four-way link between Midwest and Southeast, North and South, Midwest and Southwest, and Northeast and Southwest.

Through the 60-mile square area surrounding Cairo passes nearly one-fifth of all the nation's north-south freight traffic, according to Prof. Alfred W. Booth. He reported on a two-year traffic analysis made with Richard L. Day, U. of I. research analyst.

Mississippi River traffic through the "Cairo corridor" has multiplied 20 times in the last 35 years. Eight major oil and natural gas pipelines, including the "Big Inch" and the "Little Inch," move some 18 million tons of fuel through the area annually. The Cotton Belt Railroad, crossing the region, showed one of the highest percentages of freight traffic increases in the country between 1911 and 1951.

Besides these arteries, the Cairo corridor contains the routes of the Illinois Central, the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio, the Missouri-Pacific, and the Frisco railroads, as well as U. S. Highways 45, 51, 61, and 67.

The significance of the corridor has increased tremendously since 1920, particularly in the last 15 years, according to the U. of I. research.

Today more than 70 million tons of freight move through this area every year. More tonnage now goes north than south, reversing the situation of a century ago.

Indonesia, after being a possession of The Netherlands for more than 300 years acquired formal independence in 1949.

District 30 Delegates Attend 53rd Annual Convention of Illinois PTA Congress

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers held its 53rd annual convention in the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 14, 15 and 16.

Delegates from district 30 who attended were Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, director, Mrs. Cecil Towle, Eldorado Lincoln school, Mrs. James L. Beggs, Carrier Mills unit, Mrs. Bill Gall, Horace Mann, Mrs. Paul Tanner, Horace Mann, Vaughn Bosaw, New Haven, and Dr. J. A. Kirby of New Haven.

The total number attending the convention was 4,351.

Presiding over the session each day and night was Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, Cobden, president.

Highlights of Thursday evening's meeting was music by the Blue Jacket Choir, U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, under the direction of Marvin Genuchi, and an address by Richard Clendenen, executive director, United States Senate Judiciary Subcommittee to Investigate Juvenile Delinquency, Washington, D. C. Mr. Clendenen stated that "The problem of juvenile delinquency should be faced realistically. We would be equally ill-advised to either over-dramatize the problem on the one hand or minimize its seriousness on the other. Delinquency has multiple roots, and until we are wise enough and bold enough to develop programs embracing the several causative and contributing factors the problem of juvenile delinquency will not be met."

On Friday the convention delegates were entertained by the music of the All-State Mother-singers chorus which consists of 650 members directed by Mrs. J. W. Heylman, Oak Park, chairman of music of the department of education. The principal speaker was Dr. John S. Carroll, rural service chairman, N. C. P. T. department of education, Texas Technological college, Lubbock, Texas. Dr. Carroll's subject was "What We Can Do About Criticisms of Schools." He advised "The Parent Teacher leader must be informed, prepared, and dynamic in effective community action. Plans for such action urge that we study the purposes; know the extremes of education currently in effect; have united support of our public schools in action; and continue improvement of school-community relations."

On Saturday, April 16, an Auld Lang Syne Reunion tea was held in the Lower Tower of the hotel from 4 to 5:30 p. m. for the 441 life memberships in the Congress.

The convention was climaxed Saturday evening with a banquet in the grand ballroom at 7 o'clock which 2,546 attended. The guest speaker was Governor William Stratton who spoke on the one cent increase in sales tax which is before the legislature, and if passed will go to the schools. Mrs. Billie Davis, lecturer and author of Bettendorf, Iowa, gave the address entitled "All Who Will May Come."

The convention voted to give $2,000 as a gift to the National convention in the name of Mrs. J. W. Heylman, music chairman, who had worked so diligently toward having the national convention to be held in Chicago.

Mrs. Bramlet worked on the election and credentials committees during the convention and

Officers Elected at Area Student Council Association Meeting

The spring meeting of Area I Association of Student Councils was held recently at Crossville with student councils from eight high schools — Carmi, Carrier Mills, Crossville, Enfield, Equality, Grayville, Norris City and Harrisburg — represented.

Officers for the coming term were elected as follows: President, Judy Crocker of Grayville; vice president, Diane Mathis of Harrisburg; secretary-treasurer, Phoebe Holmes, Carrier Mills.

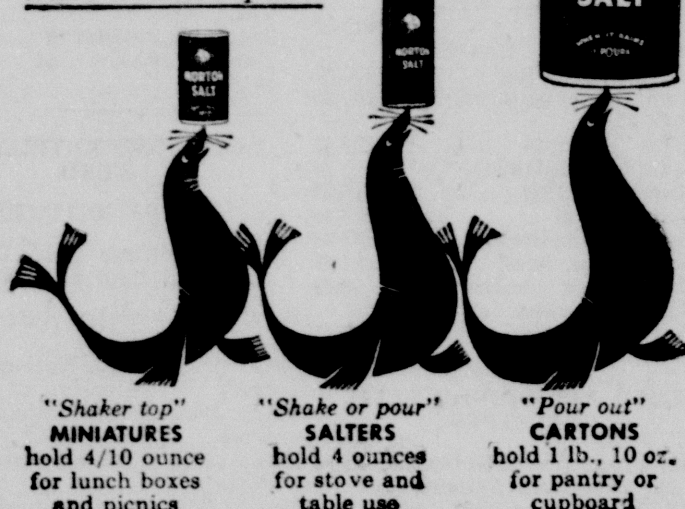

The state student council convention will be held at Peoria April 21-23. Delegates from Harrisburg will be Judy Belt and Charles Polk and Carrier Mills' delegates will be Richard Hill and Phoebe Holmes.

The fall meeting of Area I Association of Student Councils will be held at Eldorado Township High school.

EVANGELIST. The revival at the First Baptist church in Carrier Mills closes with the Sunday service. Good crowds and fine singing have featured the services. Rev. Wayne Thomas (above), pastor at East Benton, is the evangelist, and Raymond Allen directs the music. The pastor of the church is Rev. Ernest Ammon.

HTHS Hi-Tri Girls To Attend Meeting At Pinckneyville

Seventeen Hi-Tri members at the Harrisburg Township high school will attend a Spring Hi-Tri conference Saturday, April 23, at the Pinckneyville Community high school.

The conference will begin at 9 a. m. and will last until 3 p. m. Dr. Anna Carol Fultz, the head of the Home Economics department at Southern Illinois university, will be the guest speaker, talking on the subject "Positive Living." The program for the conference also includes a mixer, banquet, and the election and installation of state officers.

The Hi-Tri girls planning to attend the conference are as follows: Mary Jane Gibbons, Sally Smith, Joan Zuanella, Leanna Cummins, Judy Morse, Barbara Hancock, Carolyn Wasson, Janie Davis, Georgianna Tanner, Dawan Martin, Marilyn Gelsosky, Karen Clarke, Sara Cummins, Barbara Dunn, Avah Phillips, Irma Phillips, and Nancy Fulkerson. The Hi-Tri is sponsored by Mrs. Herman Dunn.

The Hi-Tri also recently elected officers for next year and they are as follows: President, Nancy Fulkerson; vice president, Avah Phillips; secretary, Judy Farrar; and treasurer, Dawan Martin.

State Receives $1.2 Million Payment On Inheritance Taxes

SPRINGFIELD — State Treasurer Warren Wright has announced receipt of a $1,259,481 check from the Rock Island County treasurer as payment on the inheritance taxes for the estate of Mrs. Katherine Deere Butterworth of Moline.

Wright said $50,000 of the tax still is unpaid. He said the tax on the late Mrs. Butterworth's estate of $13,489,051 is one of the largest in recent years. Federal taxes on the estate are more than $5,804,000. Mrs. Butterworth died Dec. 16, 1953. After payment of taxes and administrative expenses only $4,800,000 will remain in her estate.
